Manager of Electric Line Removed to Baltimore Hospital-Condition, While Improved, Is Still Serious. Not Yet Apprised of the Death of His Three-year-old Daughter.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Annapolis, June 7 .- With the hope that the sight of his left eye may be saved, William E. Slaughter, general traffic manager of the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Railway Company, who was seriously injured in the frightful wreck between two trolley cars over that line Friday night, was to-day removed to Maryland University Hospital, Baltimore, where he will undergo treatment at the hands of a specialist.

It was reported here that the eye was so badly injured that it was removed after Mr. Slaughter was taken to Annapolis Emergency Hospital. This is not the case, and every possible means will be employed to restore the sight.

Physicians here believe that the eye is dead, however. Mr. Slaughter is still in MILITIA TROOP ARRIVES HOME a serious condition, but his attending physicians say his chances for recovering Practice March of 250 Miles Ends

A particularly sad circumstance in connection with Mr. Slaughter's illness is that he has not been apprised of the fact that his three-year-old daughter Ruth, to whom he was most devoted, was killed in the collision, although he has frequently asked his physicians whether or not she is all right. He will not be informed of her death until his condition has improved considerably.

All the other injured ones now at the local hospital are reported to be progressing nicely, and some of them will be discharged in a few days.

Police Justice Davis, who impaneled a coroner's jury, is determined to probe the cause of the wreck thoroughly at the public inquest to be held to-morrow. Negro Killed by Car.
